Amendment 9

The DRMS response to Question 374 of the Questions and Answers (1 thru 377 to include all updates/follow-ons/clarifications) that were incorporated into Invitation For Bid 08-0001 via Amendment 6 (dated 5/28/08) is changed as follows:

Q374 - Can questions regarding the IFB be submitted and addressed by DRMS after the RFTP due date?

A374 – Yes.

Revised A374 – No further questions/updates/follow-ups/clarifications will be accepted or provided by DRMS with regard to this IFB.

The following questions and answers have been posted to the DRMS website and are incorporated into this IFB:

Q378 - Request Clarification Statement regarding Q278. Question 278 and the agency's answer stated:

Q278 – Has the CV2 Contractor resold property directly to 3rd parties without the property being made available for sale via online auction?

A278 - Yes, rarely.

A378 - During FY07, the CV2 Sales Contractor sold approximately 45% of the property (by acquisition value) using a sealed bid method and 55% using an online auction method. Whether by online auction or sealed bid, all property sales were advertised and marketed on the Contractor's website as well as traditional offline marketing techniques (newspaper, industry publications, and direct mail).

Q379 - The IFB assesses a penalty of 50% of acquisition value for any item that DRMS has identified as not eligible for sale (Controlled Property), "yet DRMS finds it for sale on the Contractor's website." Given the fact that the portion of the acquisition value delivered under CV2 sold under sealed bids is not visible on website and that these items have a much lower sales value relative to their original acquisition value, shouldn't the penalty be lower for these low value items as the 50% penalty will be more disproportionate to their resale value?

A379 – The penalty for advertising or selling controlled property is 50% of the property's acquisition value, regardless of the market value of the property. All property must be advertised on the eFAS website regardless of the sales method, sealed bid or auction. (see question and response 124)

DRMS has issued a solicitation for a contractor to manage the Controlled Property Center (CPC) function currently handled by the CV2 sales contractor. We have the following related questions:

Invitation For Bid (IFB) 08-0001

Q380 - How are the responsibilities between the control property center (CPC) small business contractor and the new useable sales contractor going to be clearly delineated? Will the sales contractor be indemnified for the CPC small business contractor's mistakes for referring property to the sales contractor that is later determined to be Controlled Property?

A380 – Contractor responsibilities are set forth in the respective invitation and solicitation. All property will be referred by DRMS after DRMS determines the property is appropriate and safe to sell. DRMS will not indemnify the Contractor for any improper property referrals by DRMS. The agency is relying on the expertise of the Contractor to assist in the identification of any such oversights.

Q380A - Given that the control property center (CPC) small business contractor has no penalty and, perhaps savings, from recommending the destruction of saleable property, versus processing and referring items to the sales channel, what is the incentive for this small business contractor not to recommend the destruction of all, or the vast majority of, property received at the controlled property centers including valuable saleable items?

A380A – Question is irrelevant to this sales invitation and should be directed to the Contracting Officer responsible for the CPC Solicitation SP4410-08-R-0001.

Q380B - Will the sales contractor have the ability to challenge the improper scrapping out of property at the CPC's? If so, how will this process work?

A380B – The sales contractor will not have the ability to challenge the scrapping of property under this sales invitation.

Q380C - It would appear that the CPC small business contractor has the discretion to scrap F, G and H property. Given that historically approximately 70% of the acquisition value of property referred under the surplus contract is in F, G, and H condition, this would appear to be a significant new risk factor which could reduce sales under the surplus contract. What safeguards would prevent a large increase in the scrapping of this property by the new CPC small business contractor?

Q380C – Question is irrelevant to this sales invitation and should be directed to the Contracting Officer responsible for the CPC Solicitation SP4410-08-R-0001.

Property issued under this contract will predominately contain a demilitarization code of A, and may contain demilitarization B and Q. In addition, DRMS may opt to include hazardous material (under mutual agreement), such as lead acid batteries, paints, sealants, and fuels; and certain demilitarization code F items where the demilitarization has been performed.

NOTE: Bidders are advised that national security decisions are currently pending that could affect the sale of demilitarization code B and Q items. These items may be removed from the product pool in the future.

The Government may elect to offer property consisting of hazardous material (under mutual agreement), such as lead acid batteries, paints, sealants, and fuels; and certain demilitarization code F items where the demilitarization has been performed. NOTE: Bidders are advised that national security decisions are currently pending that could impact the sale of demilitarization code B and Q items and, these items could be removed from the product pool in the future.

Article Eleven, Section 4 - Reutilization/Transfer/Donation (RTD) Property Returns is amended to add the following as the last sentence, “DRMS Reutilization customers will be required to certify that the property requested is “mission essential” and DRMS will have checked current on-hand DRMS inventory and determined that there is no other like item on-hand that can meet the customer’s requirement. Property will only be requested back from the Contractor to meet a Transfer or Donation customer’s requests when either an error was made on the part of DRMS or the DRMS Property Accounting system causing the item to not receive full screening or the customer’s approved requisition was not processed appropriately by DRMS.”

Paragraph 5 is changed to delete the last sentence in its entirety and read as, “The Contractor shall submit a complete termination inventory schedule to include a list, certified as to DTID and quantity, of termination inventory no later than 30 days from the effective date of termination, unless extended in writing by the SCO upon written request of the Contractor within this 30 day period. The Government will review the inventory list within 14 days and contact the Contractor with any discrepancies and notify the Contractor of items that the Contractor can retain title of.”

Article Four, Section 3 – Termination for Convenience of the Government –
Paragraph 6, “If property is not returned by the Contractor, the SCO shall within 14 days of receipt of the inventory list, negotiate a removal date from the Contractor facilities. Upon removal, the Government will accept title to the property. If not removed by the scheduled removal date, the Government will enter into a storage agreement. The Government will agree to pay storage charges at the rate of $10.00 per DTID per day. The Contractor and Government may establish an agreement for the Contractor to keep certain property the Government determines not to be cost effective to retrieve. The Government will reconcile inventory upon removal of the items. This reconciliation shall be completed before any settlement charges are assessed. Any lost, damaged, destroyed or stolen property shall be assessed a fair market value, as determined by the SCO and charged to the Contractor.” is deleted in its entirety.

Article Four, Section 4 – Wind-Down Commencement Date – is changed to read, Beginning with the date that is the earlier of either the end of the performance period or the effective date of termination by reason of DRMS or Contractor exercising the early cancellation option or by reason of a material breach, the contract shall wind-down “for a period of 120 days.”

Request For Technical Proposals (RFTP) 08-0001

Requirements and Criteria for Technical Proposals – FORMAT: Paragraph 2 (page 3), is changed to read, “Each firm shall submit only one technical proposal (two copies) with a maximum length of 75 pages in response to this solicitation subject to the following requirements and limitations (NOTE: the maximum length of 75 pages does not include the requirements as stated in the Appendices section (Page 8) of this RFTP. Contractor is not limited to a particular page length with regard to the financial statements or resume input relating to the Appendices requirements.):”

Requirements and Criteria for Technical Proposals - OPERATIONAL PLAN: Paragraph 6) Internal Controls/Security (page 6), is changed to read, “Provide a plan for quality control regarding property removal, accountability, transport of property, financial flows, and other applicable parts of your technical proposal and the requirements of this contract. Describe in detail the plan for complying with DRMS requests for property retrievals and a plan to assist DRMS with customer service. The plan for property retrievals should demonstrate a willingness to work with the Government and DRMS Representatives. The plan should reflect Contractor capabilities to ensure seamless property accountability. It should be noted that, depending on the sensitivity of the item being retrieved (most significantly related to National Security), DRMS may require Contractor to concentrate all efforts in recovering and accounting for the property. Describe your approach to data/information security, especially with regard to Internet technologies. Include the supported log-on capabilities, and what methodology would be used to prevent unauthorized access to potential successful bidder information. Describe in detail how the system will provide a complete audit trail of the specific user, function accessed, date/time, and data change. Provide details on access controls to the audit logs and safe retention of that data. Describe methods for mitigation in the event of a breach of security.”

Requirements and Criteria for Technical Proposals – BUSINESS PLAN: Paragraph 3, Key Personnel and Staffing (page 7), is changed to read, “Supply name and resume of the proposed Chief Executive Officer (CEO) and the Chief of Information Technology. Include experience on similar projects. Provide the number of personnel required, by function, in your plan estimates. Contractor is free to provide additional resumes of key personnel. All resumes do not apply to the 75 page limit placed on the RFTP submission.”

Requirements and Criteria for Technical Proposals – BUSINESS PLAN: Paragraph 5, Financial Planning (Page 7), is changed to read, “Contractor should demonstrate an understanding of the scope of work and the financial requirements of the contract. Firms should state all assumptions underlying the financial plan clearly, however, no implications or inference as to the firm’s ultimate bid will be associated with the Contractor’s purchase price assumption in the financial plan. Demonstration should be sufficiently detailed to show clearly that the prospective Contractor has a sufficient financial capacity to meet all financial requirements and contingencies associated with performing the contract to include documentation to support the availability of the Bid Deposit ($100,000), Payment Deposit ($500,000) and Financial Guarantee Bond ($4,500,000) as stated in Article Three of this contract.”

Draft Invitation For Bid (IFB) 08-0001

The Bid Opening Date stated in the Draft Invitation For Bid (IFB) 08-0001 is extended to Wednesday, May 21, 2008, at 1:00pm EDST.

Article One is amended to add, Section 4 – Pre-Award Survey – “After solicitation opening/closing and prior to award, the Government may conduct a Pre-Award survey of one or more offerors who may become eligible for award after final evaluation. Offerors must cooperate in the Pre-Award process by assisting in arrangements or by providing requested information in a timely manner. The Pre-Award survey may be conducted at the Contractor’s facility(ies) or other location(s) as deemed necessary by the Government and may include a review of Contractor’s facilities and equipment, financial capability or disclosure of a Contractor’s financial condition, quality assurance, safety, and transportation. The Pre-Award survey is one of the factors used by the Government to determine the Contractor’s ability to satisfactorily perform the work set forth in this solicitation. Offerors are advised that accomplishment of a Pre-Award survey or furnishing documents to the Government in support of the Pre-Award survey is part of the evaluation of the responsibility process and is not to be construed as an indication that an offeror will receive award of a contract.”

Article Four, Section 6 – Conduct of Wind-Down is changed to delete the second sentence, “If Contractor is unable or unwilling to do so, or if DRMS reasonably concludes that the value of its remaining interest is at risk by reason of actual or threatened failure to comply with provisions of the contract, DRMS may seek administrative or judicial relief to preserve the value of such remaining interest in Contractor’s proceeds.” in its entirety.

Article Six, Section 1, paragraph B – Government’s Right to Retrieve Property, the last sentence is changed to read, “DRMS will not reimburse the Contractor for any lost revenue associated with property that has been sold to a resale buyer.”

Article Six, Section 1, paragraph E – Title Transfer of Property, the first sentence is changed to read, “Unless otherwise provided in this IFB, DRMS shall transfer title to the Contractor when property appears on a Delivery Order.
